TAG DAY POSSIBLE

SUCH AN INNOVATION PROPOSED BY GREATER HONSDALE BOARD OF TRADE AND ONE MAY BE HELD DURING THE WAYNE COUNTY FAIR IN OCTOBER.

The Greater Honesdale Board of Trade at Friday night's meeting adopted with some slight revisions the constitution and bylaws drafted by the committee appointed some time ago for that purpose. Of this committee M. E. Simons is chairman, but a legal appointment detained him and he sent in the committee's copy by J. B. Nielson.

The report was passed on section by section and this took a good deal of time, but the bylaws are now out of the way and Friday night's job will not have to be repeated.

Before the meeting ended seven members walked up to Secretary Callaway and paid their dues. Mr. Nielson was the first man to hand the secretary a $2 bill and the other six were right on his heels. The salary of the secretary was fixed at $50 a year and he was told he would be expected to file a bond, amount to be fixed later. The treasurer will also be bonded.

One of the interesting subjects taken up at this meeting was the proposition of Chairman Leopold Blumenthal of the press committee that Honesdale have a tag day.

"You could buy these tags in wholesale quantity," said Mr. Blumenthal, "and they would cost about 5 cents apiece. We could have the words 'Greater Honesdale' put on them and they would sell for a quarter apiece. We could get the ladies interested in the selling of tags and it ought to be possible to clear up from $500 to $700 easy."

Mr. Nielson said the tags ought to have a picture of the Sturbridge Lion on them.

Mr. Blumenthal thought "Greater Honesdale" would be enough.

The secretary was told to write Whitehead & Hoag, the Newark buttonmakers, for samples and prices.

It was suggested that Labor day ought to be tag day. Mr. Blumenthal demurred to that. He favored one of the days of the Wayne county fair. On a fair day, he said, from 3,000 to 4,000 people could be tagged.

President Smith said that he had been in Scranton and that while there the Board of Trade secretary had told him about the big industrial fair Scranton is to hold in October. Honesdale industries, Mr. Smith said, might find it a good plan to be represented. On this same Scranton trip, Mr. Smith added, he had seen Division Passenger Agent George E. Bates of the D. & H., who said that road's industrial agent would be very glad to join the Greater Honesdale Board of Trade, as he is a member of about all the local boosting bodies in his territory and could be helpful to this one.

It was voted to thank the general passenger agent of the Erie for the through New York train and in the same letter to notify him that when he wants any Honesdale help to communicate with the Board.

The membership committee, hitherto made up of three men, was amplified to seven. President Smith appointed the extra four without delay. The committee now comprises John Erk, J. B. Nielson, William Katz, James Robinson, E. H. Pohle, Charles Bentley and E. B. Callaway, ex-officio. They started on their canvass Monday morning and every business and professional man will be invited to join now, when the dues are only $2. January 1 they may be increased.

When the matter of new industries came up E. H. Pohle said Jacob Beck would give any concern locating here a lot 164 feet front for $1. This lot is opposite the Erie pockets, 75 feet from the track, and near the D. & H. switch.

Friday night there will be another mass meeting. At that time the resolution tabled Friday night asking the Board to advocate another hotel on Irving cliff may be called up. This resolution was drafted by a man who thinks Honesdale's only chance to grow is by attracting a great deal of high-priced summer trade and who is certain another cliff hotel would do a lot to boost the population and importance of Honesdale.

Another Case of Smallpox?
Thomas Murphy, the man with whom Granville Bodie, the Tanners Falls smallpox victim, boards, has had chills and fever for four days and is breaking out. Dr. Ely, the county health officer, will go up there today or tomorrow to look over the case. Murphy is about 40 years old and has a family.

Dr. Ely notified Dr. Peterson, who attends Bodie, to go to Tanners Falls today.

GAYNOR IS SHOT

DISCHARGED DOCK EMPLOYEE FIRES THREE BULLETS, ONE OF WHICH TAKES EFFECT IN NEW YORK MAYOR'S HEAD—PATIENT'S CONDITION CRITICAL THIS AFTERNOON.

New York, Aug. 9, 3 p. m.—William J. Gaynor, Mayor of New York, was shot and probably fatally wounded on board the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse this morning by James Gallagher, a discharged dock employe. Gallagher fired three shots and the last one took effect. The ball took the mayor just below the right ear and probably pierced the brain.

The mayor was taken to St. Mary's hospital, where the doctors are undecided as to whether his condition will permit an examination. He is conscious and has said to the doctors:

"Tell me the worst. I want to know if I'm to live or die."

The steamboat police grabbed Gallagher and took him to their station at Pier A. He says he is glad he shot Gaynor.

COYNE IS BETTER

AND HE MAY NOT CAUSE ARREST OF HONSDALE MAN WHO GAVE HIM BLACK EYE AND LAME SHIN AS RESULT OF FRACAS IN A BUGGY.

John F. Coyne, the Scranton scale salesman who 10 days ago went to ride with a rugged Honesdale boy and during a scrap in the buggy got a big black eye and an awfully barked up shin, returned Friday from the Emergency hospital in Carbondale, where Charles A. McCarty, his lawyer, had advised him to go for treatment and rest.

Mr. Coyne's eye is coming nicely but he still walks lame. He may not have his assailant arrested, though at the time of the scrap he vowed he would have him before court right away.

The friends of the man responsible for the Scranton man's black eye and bad shin stick to it that Coyne drew a knife and that his companion hit Coyne only when self-defense demanded a couple of punches.

R. T. Whitney of Scranton spent Sunday in Honesdale.

REED RETAINS HIS DEFENDER

Man Charged with Killing Sike Lord Has Talk With Charles A. McCarty and Tells Him to Insist on Trial in October—Leona Lord's Lawyers Won't Be Ready Until January.

Sam Reed has a new lawyer. He saw Charles A. McCarty Monday in the cell at the jail and retained him to defend him at the trial in October. Sam was very certain his case could be gotten in shape for the October term and Mr. McCarty, when seen this morning at his office, said:

"Sam will insist on being tried at the next term of court."

The grand jury sits Oct. 17. The court commences one week later.

Mr. McCarty got home from Big pond Monday on the 1.50 train over the Erie. He had been away from his office since Friday. On his desk there was a note from Reed, asking the lawyer to call at the jail and see him. Mr. McCarty had considerable work that had accumulated during his absence, but he shoved that one side and went to see Sam. They talked for an hour or thereabouts about the fight July 12 at Equinunk—the fight in which Sike Lord received his death wounds from a hoe and a pickaxe. At the close of their interview Mr. McCarty told Sam he would call again Tuesday or Wednesday to dig a good deal deeper into the details of the tragedy.

"Sam," said Mr. McCarty this morning, "seems to be a pretty bright sort of a fellow and he talks rationally about the affair. He expresses the deepest contrition and regret over the fatal row at Equinunk. He says he never meant to kill Sike Lord; that he had no prejudice or hatred toward the man, but that he was led into the thing through gallantry, for he was going to marry Leona Lord.

"I shall see him again, perhaps not today, but certainly tomorrow. He has all the papers that contain stories of the affair, and he has them so sorted and arranged that he can turn very quickly to the one he wants. He showed all these to me and, of course, made his comments on them all."

This was all Mr. McCarty would say, but he intimated that it was a blunder to suppose W. H. Lee and Frank P. Kimble, Leona Lord's lawyers, were acting for Sam all along.

"Sam said his friends told him he'd better get another lawyer," said he, "so he sent for me to go and see him, and I went."

In court Monday Lee and Kimble, counsel for Leona Lord, informed Judge Searle that they would not be ready for trial in October.

KILLED BY A FALL

MORALDUS CALKINS GOES OFF BARREL IN WAGON WHEN WHEEL HITS STONE AND LANDS ON HIS HEAD, BREAKING HIS NECK—DEATH COMES INSTANTANEOUSLY.

Moraldu Calkins of Atco was instantly killed Monday afternoon about 3 o'clock by a fall from his wagon near Anthony Hocker's house, a mile from Narrowsburg.

Mr. Calkins was sitting on an empty barrel in the wagon when one wheel struck a stone and he was thrown out and landed heavily on his head, breaking his neck.

Mr. Calkins was a man about 70 years old. He is survived by his widow and two children, Roy Calkins of Forest City, who is employed by the Bell Telephone company, and Mrs. Nathaniel Hankins of Narrowsburg.

Dr. H. B. Searles, the coroner, was notified at Honesdale, but was not summoned to hold an inquest, that being deemed unnecessary.

WE GET TWO GAMES

WHITE MILLS BEATEN AT HONSDALE AND MAPLE CITY LADS TAKE CARBONDALE INTO CAMP IN THIRD GAME OF SERIES—CAPT. KUPFER'S TIMEA WALLOW.

Saturday's game with White Mills, the last of the series, was a real ginger game, full of snap and go from the start to the end of it. In the last of the eighth, with the Mills leading by the score of 2 to 1, Brader and Sandercock were scored from third and second by Capt. Billy Kupfer, who sent a pretty liner into short right. Those two runs gave the game to Honesdale by the score of 3 to 2.

For a few seconds it looked as though 4 to 2 would be the windup figures. Kupfer, a very pretty baserunner, stole third neatly, for he was halfway there before White Mills' sleepy boy in the box knew the Honesdale captain had decided to leave the second bag at his heels. But the next man up died at first and Capt. Billy had to be contented with the glory instead of the run. He said he was suited.

Both teams fielded sharply and not many slips and fumbles marred the smoothness of Honesdale's team work. Benny Hessling pitched his habitual steady game, but one homer was made off him in the second, when Shaeffer put the ball away over toward the Erie tracks and swung around the bags at a 15-second clip. Murphy for White Mills held Honesdale's hitters down very well and let only one man walk to first. The score:
Honesdale 1 0 0 0 0 0 2 x—3

Honesdale 8, Carbondale 2.

In a game full of errors by the Carbondale team, Honesdale easily beat Carbondale at Carbondale Sunday by a score of 8 to 2. Roach went to pieces in the fourth and the rest of the team got nervous. Up to that time he was invincible, but a three-base hit by Hattler rattled the pitcher and the other players got rattled, too.

Hattler, the first man up for Honesdale, drove the ball under a tin pall in center field for three bases. The next two men were easily retired and Jacobs struck out but Boles dropped the third strike and

SUIT'S FOR $2200

PLAINTIFFS ASK THAT AMOUNT OF DAMAGES FROM AUTO TRANSPORTATION COMPANY BECAUSE LITTLE ANNA MAY FIVES WAS HURT IN RUN-AWAY ACCIDENT HERE.

In the suit of Anna May Fives by her father and next friend, William B. Fives, vs. the Auto Transportation company the following declaration has been filed by Chester A. Garratt, attorney for the plaintiffs: Anna May Fives, a minor child of William B. Fives, suing by the said William B. Fives as next friend, and William B. Fives, suing in his own right, plaintiffs in the action above stated, by their attorney, Chester A. Garratt, complain of the Auto Transportation company, a corporation chartered under the laws of this commonwealth, defendant in said action, and say:

That before and at the time of committing the grievances herein mentioned, the defendant had in its possession and under its management and control a vehicle known as an automobile, and by its servants operated the same for the transportation of passengers on the public highways of said county of Wayne, and in so doing it was by law the duty of the defendant to so operate the said automobile as to cause no damage to persons or property on said highways.

That on the twenty-seventh day of May, 1910, a horse, properly harnessed to a carriage, both of which were the property of the said William B. Fives, were lawfully standing on one of the said public highways, known as Main street, in the borough of Honesdale, facing down street, toward the south, the said horse being properly hitched to an iron hitching post on the eastern side of said street, by an iron chain, one end of which was securely fastened to said post, and the other end was by an iron hook thereon securely attached to an iron ring on the bridle of said horse, and the said Anna May Fives was seated in said carriage; that large curtains were attached to the top of said automobile, at the sides and the rear, which should have been so secured as to prevent them from flying loose and flapping in the wind; that the defendant, by its servants, rapidly drove or ran the said automobile northward on said street, toward and past the said horse and carriage, and unnecessarily near the same, with the said curtains, through the defendant's negligence, so improperly and insufficiently secured that they were flapping loose in the wind, shaking and flapping, with sharp, snapping noises; that by reason thereof the said horse became frightened, broke loose from said hitching post, and ran away with great speed, and in such a course that the axle of said carriage struck violently against a stone hitching post on the side of said street, and the said Anna May Fives was thereby thrown out of said carriage to the ground; that by reason of the premises the said Anna May Fives was greatly bruised, wounded and injured, she has undergone great pain and suffering, her power of speech was greatly impaired, she became sick, sore, lame and disordered, and from thence hitherto has so remained, and has sustained injuries likely to become permanent; the said William B. Fives, her father, has incurred, and must continue to incur, great expense for the medical treatment and care of his said daughter, his said carriage has been completely destroyed and made of no value; his said horse, which previously had no fear of automobiles, has since become greatly afraid of them, and is thereby made of little value, being useless as a carriage horse on the highways aforesaid. And by reason of the premises the said Anna May Fives has sustained damage to the amount of fifteen hundred dollars, and the said William B. Fives has sustained damage to the amount of seven hundred dollars, and therefor suit is brought.

Should Drink Soda on His Next Trip. One Honesdalian who went to Stroudsburg says the Water Gap women are healthy-looking help, but that they weigh too much by 50 pounds to look good to him. He announces with the solemnity of a positive knowledge of the subject that the average of 'em will pull down a couple of hundred by the scales. Wonder how he comes to know so much about it!—Honesdalian Citizen.
